Part 2

Working from home

Three people talk about working from home

Priya

I started working from home a couple of years ago. In the beginning, I really enjoyed it. I love getting up later than I did when I worked in an office. Sometimes I don't like chatting to people in the morning, so it was nice to avoid that! I like taking a break when I need it and even going to the gym with my sister, if I have enough time. But the strange thing is that after a while, I began to miss talking to my colleagues, even just saying 'Good morning' to them!

Henry

I stopped teaching four years ago to start my own business and work from home. I wasn't sure about leaving school at first because I enjoyed teaching my students important skills. During school time, working from home was great, but over the long summer break my children didn't understand that I was working. They kept asking me to play with them, and they sometimes got angry when I couldn't. Now they're older, I can work as I please. I find it very quiet in the house now, so I turn on the radio instead!

Ajay

The first time I worked at home, I didn't really manage to do anything the first day. I got up late and found it hard to start work. Now, I write down all my tasks for the day and the time I need to do them. I make sure there's nothing to take my attention from my work and that it's nice and quiet. Actually, I would prefer to work in a busy office with people to chat to, so I hope that I soon find something else to do.

Read the questions (1–6) and match them to the correct text about working from home (A–C).

1 Who changed their mind about one part of working from home?

- A Priya B Henry C Ajay

2 Who was happy to have a new daily routine?

- A Priya B Henry C Ajay

3 Who found it difficult to work because of family?

- A Priya B Henry C Ajay

4 Who is looking for a new job?

- A Priya B Henry C Ajay

5 Who changed their career?

- A Priya B Henry C Ajay

6 Who says in the beginning they found working at home difficult?

- A Priya B Henry C Ajay

Part 3

Six sentences are missing from this text. Choose the correct sentence (A–G) for each gap (1–6). There is one extra sentence which you do not need to use.

Let's talk about the weather

The subject of weather is one that we talk about a lot in my home country. It's a great way to start or continue a conversation.

In the UK, it's quite normal to hear someone say 'What a nice day we're having,' or 'What a horrible day'.¹ I didn't realize this until I moved to a different country.

In Tenerife, where I live now, people think that talking about the weather is boring.² This means that there isn't a huge difference between summer and winter so there isn't very much to say about the subject.

In the UK, you can have a lot of different types of weather on the same day.³ It can be warm and sunny when you get up, but cold and rainy in the afternoon.

In some countries, people have different clothes for summer and winter.⁴ I just have the same clothes in my bedroom and wear what I think I'm going to be comfortable in.

I enjoy being out in all kinds of weather.⁵ It makes you feel cold and wet and drivers can't see where they are going.

My favourite weather is snow, but of course we don't get a lot.⁶ One year the National Park was closed because cars couldn't drive along the roads!

- A Because of this, it's sometimes difficult to choose what to wear in the morning.
- B They put them in a suitcase at the end of each season.
- C However, we do sometimes get very cold winter weather.
- D The only thing that I really don't like is fog.
- E People talk about the weather a lot because it's always different.
- F The temperature stays between 20°C and 25°C all year round.
- G Some people think that it rains all the time here.

Part 4

Read the article about baking. For each question (1–4), choose the correct answer (A, B, or C).

Me and my cakes

My hobby is baking. I started off by watching Mum make cakes at home. In the holidays, I used to visit our neighbour and she showed me all the basic recipes. Now, I'm even teaching my sister to bake!

You need butter, sugar, eggs and flour and these don't cost much money – most people have them in their kitchen. It's helpful to have a big kitchen, but a small one is OK, too. You have to organize your space well and be tidy, or else things will get messy very fast!

My teacher printed photos of my cakes in the school magazine. That gave me the idea to set up a social media account. I wanted my classmates to have fun baking, too. One day, a woman asked me to bake a cake for a birthday party and she paid me for it!

What was my hobby is now a successful small business. The only thing I need is a name. Maybe I'll ask my online customers for some suggestions. The best one will get a free cake!

At university, I'll have lots of classes and essays, but I'm not going to stop baking! I'll use the money for books and equipment, but that's not why I want to carry on with it. Leaving home can be hard, and focusing on my baking will help me through the first months of my new life.

- 1 Who taught Emily how to bake?
A her sister
B her mother
C her neighbour

- 2 The most important thing for baking is ...
A being clean and careful.
B having a large space to work in.
C finding cheap products.

- 3 Why did Emily post pictures of her cakes online?
A to share her hobby with her friends
B to earn money from her hobby
C to please her tutor

- 4 Emily will continue baking at university because ...
A she has to pay for her studies.
B she thinks her lessons will be boring.
C it will help her manage a difficult time.

Writing

Part 1

You have 20 minutes to write an email. Write 80–130 words.

You are going on a nature walk next weekend with your friend Charlie. First, read the email below from Charlie. Then write an email to Charlie, including the three notes you have made.

FROM: Charlie
SUBJECT: Nature walk

Hi!

I'm writing about our nature walk next weekend. I'm excited to visit the national park! What's the best way for us to get there?

give details

I'm not sure what to take with me. What do you think the weather will be like?

Explain

Finally, my cousin Danny would like to come with us. Danny's very friendly and loves nature, too.

No problem

Bye for now,

Charlie

Part 2

For Writing Part 2, choose one question, the essay OR the article.

Part 2 Essay

You have 25 minutes to write an essay. Write 100–160 words.
